POLICY LANDSCAPE WORKSHEET (RP2E)

On the worksheet below, indicate what you know about the policy landscape for your issue. If you are unsure, suggest where you might be able to find the information. Finally, consider which information would be most valuable.
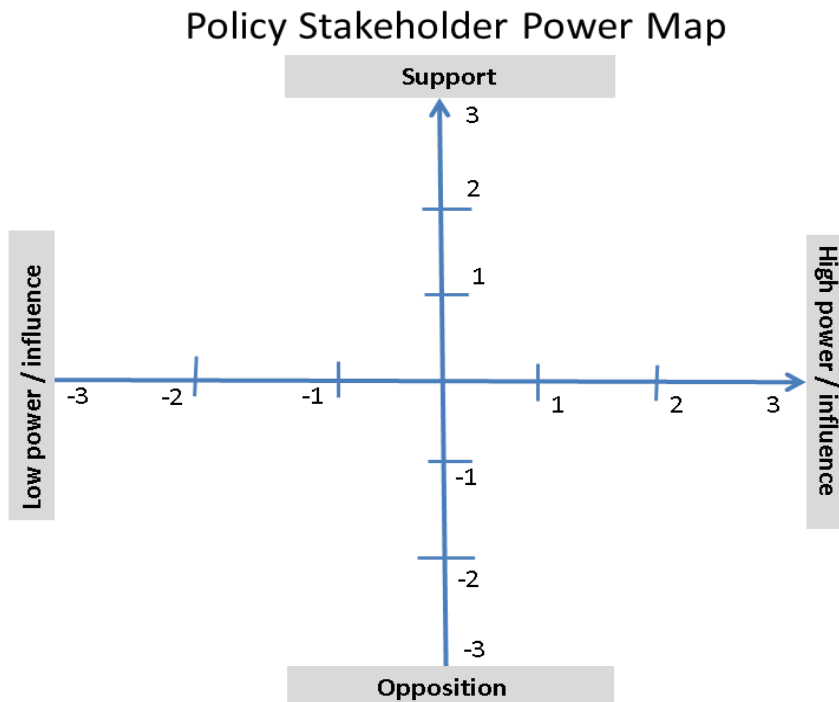

1. Policy Topic:

2. Identifying Stakeholders

Brainstorm stakeholders for your topic at three levels: primary (direct beneficiaries), secondary (program implementers and decisionmakers), and tertiary (influential voices).

Beneficiaries	Implementers	Influencers

3. Stakeholder Mapping

Map the stakeholders identified above on the Power and Influence Chart below. Use your best guess if you don't know much about the stakeholder you identified.

Policy Stakeholder Power Map

POLICY LANDSCAPE WORKSHEET (RP2E)

4. What policies/strategies address this topic? Consider national, subnational, and facility-level policies. Circle the policy that would be most important to read and understand.

5. How are the mandates from the policy or policies above funded? Who makes those funding decisions?

6. What do the policy or policies specify about how they will be implemented?

7. Have any officials made recent statements or commitments for your topic?

8. What indicators from national surveys (such as the Census or Demographic and Health Surveys) could provide information on this topic? What is the data?

9. Are there key informants you could interview? What key informants would be most important to interview if you had the opportunity?